Alumni Association News Letter P S G R Krishnammal College for Women, Coimbatore

Kudos ! You made us proud,

Here are the brave young women of our college who dared climb the Himalayas, the peak did not prove a hurdle to these nimble footed smarties. The student's trekking expedition to Hanuman Tibba was undertaken by the NSS students of PSGR Krishnammal College for women. The Deputy Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu Mr M K Stalin met the expenses of the expedition to the tune of Rs3,77,000/-. They reached the Siddithiar Peak scaling 17450 feet and were unable to proceed further due to heavy snowfall.

MOUNTAINEERING EXPEDITION

Dear College,

It has been five long years since I left you, but the days that I spent with you can never be expunged. You welcome every girl extending your gentle arms around her as the first step in your endeavor to transform her into a lady whom this society will love and respect. Even as a child, I used to wait for my holidays to visit you. Thanks to my dear Mom who was working in the English Department, it was an easier task.

The first thing that always caught my attention was that you were spotlessly clean on any given day and time. It is one of the primary virtues that bears the spirit of the profession carried out in your campus. The well groomed greenery around adds to your elegance. The bright white buildings, the black top roads, the scenic Ganesh temple and the GRG memorial contribute abundantly to your magnificence. Every part of your ambience stands a testimony to (y)our founders' vision, values and valor.

The first day that I came to you as a student, I just thought that there was not going to be any surprise, for, I had known you for years. But you proved me wrong! You were different every single day and made me change throughout my stay with you. All my tomboyish days passed by as you slowly pulled me into your groove.

The Morning Prayer elucidates the divinity attached to one's education. It is an experience that I miss even now. The humility exhibited by our Management, Staff and the surrounding makes sure that every lady nurtured here takes with her sincerity, courage, grace, love for mankind and a uniqueness that makes her stand apart from the rest of the crowd. This is indeed the USP of our college - of not just giving the world a batch of graduates every year but ladies of strong will power and entrepreneurial abilities to take up any challenge and emerge a winner in every field that they are in. I am really proud to be one amongst them. Though my career is in its nascent stage, I am sure it will be a successful one.

The chosen, well tuned staff, play the perfect foil to your commitment to develop wholesome personalities. Their dedication to bring out the best in every girl, reminds me of a sculptor who creates wonders from even a small piece of rock. This is a trait that is not available in many other institutions. My admiration goes with every staff member.

The Freshers' Day, Founders' Day, College Union Election, Inter Departmental Competitions, Symposiums, Guest Lectures, et al provide a beautiful platform by giving ample scope for a student to emerge as a healthy competitor, an able administrator and a judicious organizer. It is impossible to get such opportunities outside where one is not allowed to make mistakes and learn from it.

Apart from all of these I really miss the kind of friends that I got here, the everyday classes, home assignments, tests, impositions, punishments, really, each one of these has contributed in the shaping of my personality. If there be any credit to what I am today and what I will be tomorrow, the lion's share is definitely yours, my dear college!

Waiting to come back to you and cuddle in your warmth,

With Love,

Nandhini (Kalanandhini BBM-2001)
